at a quarter after eight o'clock;
in the Convocation Hall of the University of Toronto.*

On behalf of the Board of Governors, which is officially represented here by its Chairman, Sir Edmund Walker, of the Senate and of the Faculties of the University of Toronto I congratulate Dr. Bowles on the honour which has been done him to-night by his promotion to the Presidency and Chancellorship of Victoria. My duty is the more pleasurable because we have listened to an address exhibiting such discernment, sanity and modesty of spirit. One of the privileges connected with my position is that I am asked to participate in the gatherings and anniversaries of each college of the federated group, when the story of struggle and success brings encouragement, and when at the same time one has the opportunity of studying the type and character of the graduates and admiring their loyalty to and affection for their college. Fortunately for us the history of our education has not been obliterated, but is embodied in these representative colleges with their traditions and ideals. The predecessor of Dr. Bowles laid down his office amid universal respect and good will. The Methodist Church has produced many great leaders, but two stand out prominently because of their services to the cause of education, not only to their own denomination but to the country at large. A memorial to the one, Dr. Egerton Ryerson, stands in front of the Normal School: the work of the other, Dr. Burwash, is fittingly commemorated in the hall of the beautiful suite of buildings just erected for Victoria College.

To-day at the luncheon the interesting story of university federation was retold with many new incidents by Dr. Burwash and by Sir William Mulock two of the principals in the proceedings. At the same time a well-deserved tribute was paid by Dr. Hutton to the qualities of mind and heart of Dr. Burwash, which have made the system efficacious, his patience, wisdom and charity. Assuredly this federation system is a unique characteristic of our University and as hitherto so in the future its success will depend upon the spirit of those to whom its organisation has been entrusted. I welcome you Dr. Bowles to the position of responsibility in this federation of colleges. You know already that the burden is not a light one, but if the burden does not grow lighter as the years advance your back will get somewhat better fitted to the load. You enter at the request of a harmonious Board of Regents who have proved their devotion to Victoria. You have the respect of an able body of professors. You have and will I believe have increasingly the affectionate regard of your students. As a graduate you know your college, in itself a great advantage. As a member of the staff you know where your creditors are. Also, having lived so long in confederation you know our internal customs and the code of academic ethics that has been fashioned for us, but you are also aware that your power in this group of colleges will depend not upon regulations and statutes nor on the insistence with which you demand your legal rights but upon what you are yourself and upon the constraint exercised by your own character, and the respect that you will compel others to give you. Because you have this character and have already won this respect we welcome you with the greatest confidence to your new position.

Toronto, February 23, 1914.

To the President and members of the Faculty of Arts in the University of Toronto, _____

The petition of the undersigned undergraduate students of the University of Toronto, enrolled in the Faculty of Arts, and registered in Victoria College humbly sheweth that,

Whereas in the Class Lists of 1913 the custom of indicating the standing of candidates in individual subjects was departed from, so as to show only the standing of the candidate in his whole course, and thus no more information was given than had been conveyed through the newspapers, or in the individual intimation sent from the registrar, and

Whereas the students believe that a knowledge of their standing in the individual subjects would enable them to know upon what subjects they should expend a greater amount of time and effort in the succeeding year so as to improve their general standing,

Your petitioners therefore pray that in the Class lists of 1914, and succeeding years, the standing of candidates in individual subjects be indicated by the grading I, II, III class honours in individual honor subjects, and by the grading A, B, and C in individual subjects in the general course,
